Stratton Project Hit

Damage Evident As River Drops

IN WAKE OF FLOOD. Repairs to a warped lock gate and removal of an overturned barge loom as the big job in the cleanup of flood damage at the Stratton super-dam. The Army Corps of Engineers said it does not expect damage to be extensive but pointed out it will be at least a week before a complete survey can be made. The lock gate, shown in the upper photo, was warped when water pressure caused it to slam shut. The barge-ownership unknown- overturned on the dirt coffer dam at the upper end of the lock wall. Savin Construction Co. today started washing mud and debris from the pipe galleries housing hydraulic and electrical systems. Dravo Construction Co. plans to remove all ice from its coffers with cranes before starting pumping operations. Unless heavy damage to other gates is revealed by the pumping operations, the loss will not be great, the engineers said. Loss of construction time will be the greatest setback of the project. Cakes of ice 2 to 3 feet thick were left atop the gate mechanism.

Lawrence Backers Must Be Heard

There's a letter from a reader elsewhere

As do the majority of those which come across the editor's desk, it belittles the city administration in no uncertain terms.

It also aims a verbal haymaker at The Review. This latter we will accept as a matter of free speech, with full consideration of the source, and continue to take positive stands in support of those things which we feel are for the ultimate advancement of the city of East Liverpool.

It must be most disheartening and aggravating, however, to the mayor and to the members of Council to be attacked so bitterly and so unjustly as they press their efforts to snap East Liverpool out of the lethargy which has gripped it for so long.

The demand that the mayor and the Councilmen resign is ridiculous. In a year's time, they have combined their efforts to provide an administration which holds more promise than any in years.

If it serves no other constructive purpose, today's "Letter To The Editor" re-emphasizes the need for the Lawrence backers to be more vocal in support of his program.

The opposition is loud, and may become louder. And those on the fence too often unconsciously become swayed by the sheer volume of noise.

Silent support for the mayor and Council isn't enough. Nor is a sympathetic attitude. With snipers on every street corner, fire must be fought with fire. The pro-Lawrence camp

An Idea Not Exactly New

The National Assn. of Manufacturers seems suspicious of a subversive plot because a broadcasting company did a documentary on the use of sex in business deals in New York City.

It feels that such an allegation could have been made only by labor unionists, politicians, or both and has made slurs against the narrator of the documentary that will not sit well with him and members of his occu-

Most of all, though, the association seems to resent the aid and comfort that may be given to labor unions desperate for a diversion to offset the McClellan committee's disclosures of the seamy side of unionisn. As a matter of fact, if the material in the broadcasting company's documentary was substantially correct, the McClellan committee would be well advised to look into it as an aspect of the seamy side of business.

It seems significant that the NAM has taken umbrage not on the grounds that the material was completely false but on the grounds that it may give aid and comfort to the labor union critics of business.

There are, to be sure, some labor unionists who feel that same way about disclosures of unionism's seamy side - that the didoes of unionism's cutups are relatively unimportant, except as they give businessmen something to hold against unionism.

Certainly the best commentary on the whole affair was the reaction of the New York police department and the Internal Revenue Service in the New York district. Both were interested enough to say they would do everything in their power to clamp down on a condition that had been freshly called to their attention. The idea, after all, is not exactly new.

One of the early victims was a fellow named Samson, who was in the wrecking business until he made the acquaintance of a Philistine charmer named Delilah, who was in the employ of the syndicate.

Holding The Door Wide Open

William P. Rogers, attorney general of the United States, has called official attention to the door the U.S. Supreme Court has opened for Southern school systems stalled on deseg-

The Alabama pupil placement law, he has explained, is legal as far as his office is concerned, if it does not discriminate against

This is the same thing the U.S. Supreme Court said early in December when it upheld a federal court ruling made last May that the Alabama placement law was constitutional on its face, though it might be unconstitutional in its application.

That meant local school boards could assign pupils to attend schools on a number of different grounds, but they could not make race discrimination one of the grounds.

For instance, local school boards could assign pupils on a basis of sex - boys in one school, girls in another. This would get rid of one of the most troublesome problems of integration in the South.

Or school boards could assign pupils to attend school on a basis of aptitude tests, past performance, present performance, plans for the future, or geographic location, which is the commonest basis of assignment at present.

The only thing no school board could do constitutionally would be to assign pupils because they were Negroes or non-Negroes. That would be assignment on a basis of race, which is unconstitutional.

The Alabama placement law is a potential way out of the educational impasse in Southern states, wherever boards of education have the intelligence and decency to apply it fairly. Most of them would and could apply it that way. The matter could be taken out of the reckless hands of the ruthless politicians who have been distorting it into a statewide issue for their own statewide benefit. available. Some experts put these

It Sounds A Little Sappy, But ...

There is the first robin.

There is the pre-training season whoop-dedoo of the baseball clubs.

There is the annual disintegration of streets end highways.

There are floods, high winds, fashion shows, the exodus to Florida and gun-jumping advertisements for power mowers and outdoor swimming pools.

All of these are harbingers of spring - signs that winter has come and spring cannot be far behind.

But if you ever lived in the "sugar bush," or if you even know what a "sugar bush" is, there's a more reliable harbinger.

Nature, herself, gives the signal for the sap to start rising in the sugar maples. The time Is variable. It depends on moisture, temperature, sunlight and all the other elements in the conspiracy of springtime. But Nature knows what she is doing; she has the final word on springtime.

Within a few days, President Eisenhower will receive new-made maple syrup from sap that rose last week on the farm of Howard

Taylor in Geauga County. The next batch of syrup, which will be made from the next upward surge of sap caused by rising temperatures and warm rains, will go to Gov. Di-Salle. It sounds a little sappy, but it's part of the publicity for one of Ohio's unusual in-

And it's official. Sap has been running in Geauga County. The "sugar bush" is coming alive. It's the first harbinger of spring that is absolutely reliable. Nature knows best.

Answer The Knock

The mothers in some district communities already have staged their annual "March of Dimes" with which to fight the effects of polio and other crippling diseases.

Those from East Liverpool, Chester and Newell will be among those knocking on doors Wednesday night.

A warm response will be encouraging to those making the rounds. So turn on your porch light and be ready to open your doorand your hearts.

Most laughable is a highway sign on the new Connecticut thruway. It reads: "Crossing Median Divider Prohibited." The legislator has a bill to require more simple language. Signs and symbols are loused up all over but nowhere more so than in Nutmeg State. "Median Divider," says the Connecticut highway chief, means the center grass section separating lines of traffic. But if that message is clear, why not "Nourishment Depot Within Optical Detection" instead of "Lunchroom Ahead"? Why not "Enchance Caution Tendency" instead of "Slow"?

Kennedy Bill Could Curb Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

Miami's sunny real estate has not seen its last tycoon. A fellow by the name of Jim Hoffa has by the name of Jim Hoffa has just put four million dollars into the refurbishing of glades, a residential hotel on the mainland. It is some distance from the Gold Coast's motel row where the Teamsters al-

1/4 million into Victor Riesel a sandlot drive-in palace called The Castaways. All this is atop some four millions in a West Coast housing project and some 12 millions in deposits in Midwest banks.

So when Sen. John Kennedy says he has a law to put Hoffa out of business — it's a pretty big business, for there are other millions I've not listed here and tens of millions more in welfare funds still funds at a billion dollars for Hoffa's dollar diplomacy.

But Sen. Kennedy's proposals are big enough to contain even

This anti - racketeering bill will get more kicking around than an English soccer ball. But if it survives as the "minimum" law we, the people, get this year, this is how Kennedy believes the public can win this final conflict:

THERE ARE nine main assaults on racketeering. Kennedy's most dramatic proposal calls for the summary dismissal of all ex-convicts from their union posts.

This means that any union "leader" anywhere with a long police sheet which has a conviction for arson, larceny, extortion, narcotics pushing, mayhem or any other major crime must be dropped from his post the moment the Kennedy bill becomes law.

If the ex-convict stays in office, the Justice Dept. can automatically move in, demand his ejection and bring criminal proceedings against the union leaders. The union itself can also be fined heavily.

No union official ever will be able to draw dues money for yachts, homes or major items like convention hotel bills without everybody getting a real X-ray look at his personal accounts.

Kennedy's bill calls for full public disclosure of all salaries, expenses and other disbursements of every single official and employe who receives more than $7,-000 annually from a union. This will include virtually every paid national and local labor leader.

IN THE PAST, the looting crowd has been able to cover up by passing by-laws enabling leaders to hide or destroy union books each year. If the Kennedy bill passes, it will be a federal offense, punishable by a five-year jail term and heavy fine, to steal, deface or destroy union records.

Believe it or not, embezzlement of union funds is not a federal offense. Under this bill, it will be illegal to steal union funds. That's progress. Imagine having to fight to pass such a law in the Congress of the U.S.

Under the bill, the rank-and-file can go into a state or federal court and sue the till thieves for recovery of union money even if the union itself does not act to recover the stolen funds.

This means that a rank-and-file furniture and even clothing back to End one of its goals.

THERE ARE other powers for the rank-and-file. If they believe there's been a crooked election, the bill gives them the right to ask the secretary of labor of the U.S. to investigate. He would have subpena powers. He could seize all records affecting the election (any records for that matter). He would then have the right to set the election asidewhether a local or an international union was involved.

The proposed law would give him the power to call new elections. He could see to it that no intricate union statute kept any member so long as his dues were paid on worthwhile.

If we, the people, get all this written into law this year, some from voting or running for office of our heartaches will have been

Khrushchev Gains Confidence

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON The Soviet leaders who walked into their 21st party congress today were a lot more confident group than met three years ago to hear Nikita S. Khrushchev downgrade Stalin.

Khrushchev showed a lot of confidence at that time, to be sure in his own ability to destroy the memory of Stalin and will survive in the Kremlin power struggle and in the future of the Soviet

It was at that time he suggested Communist parties elsewhere could feel free to do their own thinking. It was an idea that came to a quick and bloody end when Hungarians, seizing a little freedom, tried for more and were

History will probably say Khrushchev in 1956 did what he had to do in condeming the long tryanny of Stalin. He wanted to destroy the image of Stalin which represented terror and oppression to all peoples everywhere.

If communism-Soviet brandwas to extend its influence in Asia, Africa and even Europe it had to put on a much friendlier and a more reasonable and helpful face than Stalin ever displayed.

Khrushchev's new policy has worked pretty well. Russian influence has been extended. But Khrushchev in 1956 was in a position know, what the rest of the world didn't, that Russia would soon be able to dazzle the world. It did that late in 1957 when it

Much of the racist literature written in America is reprinted in Egypt and broadcast over the Cairo radio, which the Communists are said to control.

Certain Egyptian officials in and around New York are mentioned in the "Daily News" articles as fraternizing and conferring frequently with Americans active in the "racist" and "hate" campaigns against Jews.

CONSIDERABLE SUMS of mon-

opinion behind the Arab cause, Sen.

"Keating said: 'There is telling evidence that students from the Arab nations have engaged in the U.S. in hostile propaganda activities financed by their governments. They have engaged in co-ordinated efforts to mobilize opinion behind the Arab cause through the organization of Arab students, which has chapters on some 30 college and university campuses in the United

At the risk of being redundant, let me recall that these men were elected to office by a smashing majority. Immediately these officials were claiming a mandate from the people which entitled them to run our city to suit themselves. A survey of the city's needs and finances was taken by a firm of experts. One of the things advised against in this survey was an income tax.

Contrary to this advice, the member of that Council has failed to file for renomination.

I can recall that when a group of citizens, myself among them, protested against a contemplated income tax some years ago, each member of that Council told us that he was abused and underpaid. Strange isn't it how these men keep filing for the office. Is it that they are not abused and not underpaid or do they have a special dispensation from Heaven displeasure with emergency legis-

I am convinced that adequate revenues can be raised in this community and all it will take is telling the whole story to all the people and not using dictatorial powers which should be reserved for real emergencies.

I can recall the many times school levies were tried in this town and were turned down until a really organized campaign was waged and a levy was passed which gave us the money for the fine schools we now have. I firmly believe the Councilmen's biggest service to our community would be to resign.

Needle Pattern Ohio Church Unit Opposes Nuns In Public Schools

COLUMBUS (AP)-The assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches has adopted a resolution opposing the employment of Roman Catholic nuns as teachers in Ohio's public schools.

Recently the Ohio attorney general ruled that it is permissible under Ohio law for Roman Catholic nuns in their garb to teach in public schools.

Although it does not question the right of churches to operate parochial schools, the resolution, adopted Monday night, declares public schools must be "free from undue sectarian influences."

The assembly, a relatively brief part of the three-day 40th annual Ohio Pastors' Convention, adopted other resolutions that:

Urged Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to call a state-wide conference on juvenile delinquency.

Urged that Ohio and local school boards accept greater responsibility for education of mentally retarded children, and asked a study by the council's public affairs department on needs, resources and recommendations on the mentally retarded.

In other action, Dr. Howard J. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Sheer delight! Swans in lacy K Church of the Saviour in Clevestitch add unusual contrast to this land Heights, was named chairman of the 1960 convention.

3 Room Outfit

For less than balance due Here's the story. Three months ago we sold this fine 3 room outfit to a wonderful young couple whose parents have dealt here for years. Evidently something went wrong as 3 days after we deliv-ered the furniture we were called to pick it up as something had developed between the newlyweds and he disappeared. Since the family were old customers, we had no choice but to get the furniture. We now offer it for sale at $300 less than what we originally sold it for.

Now for sale at a big cut in price Now for sale at a big cut in price and here is what you get . . A deluxe 3 room outfit complete with gas range. Pay nothing down. Terms will be made to suit your budget. Ask for the Pre _____ deal at Megdal's 540 Midland Ave., Midland, daily 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.
